

WELCOME NEWCOMERS!

If this is the first time you have attended the Traditional Latin Mass, you may have noticed that our parishioners do not dress casually in the church. Since the changes in the Church, few parishes have any kind of dress code. Here, however, we still believe that modesty and appropriate attire are necessary, especially in Church out of reverence for the Blessed Sacrament. Please observe these minimum standards of dress for attendance at Church services:

- Women and girls must cover their heads. Chapel veils or mantillas are available for loan in the vestibule. They should also wear dresses or skirts that cover the knee completely when standing or sitting; slacks, shorts, sleeveless, tight or low cut clothing are not permitted.
- Men and boys should wear a suit coat and tie
- Jeans and other casual attire are inappropriate for attendance at Church services.
- Also, unless you have been attending the Latin Mass exclusively, you should refrain from receiving Holy Communion until you have had an opportunity to meet with Father.

We are always happy to see new faces at Mary Immaculate Queen Church and we look forward to seeing you again.

“JESUS WASHING HIS APOSTLES’ FEET”

Point I – Jesus the Servant: Before a very great feast it was the custom for a slave to wash the guests’ feet. Though the Apostles knew it not, a greater Banquet was about to take place...Jesus loving His own with an eternal love, and with an intense desire to eat this Last Supper with them, would show them first the importance of being “clean” before partaking of It...He washed not only the feet that were going to carry His Gospel into all the world, but also those which were going to be swift to shed His Blood. “I am in the midst of you, as He that serveth,” (Luke 22:27) – as the slave! What love, and what humility! He comes to us, too, and washes our feet in every absolution that we receive. Let us think sometimes of all He had to go through before He could do this.

Point II – Jesus the Master: He begins with Peter, and Peter objects: “Lord, dost Thou wash my feet?” Then Jesus acts as the Master and tells Peter that he cannot understand His actions now, but that he will understand later...All this Peter did not understand yet, because He did not understand about Holy Communion, but afterwards the lesson would come back to him; and John wrote it down that all might learn it. Have we learned it? Do we, each time before receiving Holy Communion ask our Lord to “wash our feet” which may have gotten soiled since we were bathed in His Precious Blood at our last Confession, telling Him while He does so how sorry we are?

Point III – Jesus the Example: But this was not the only lesson that Jesus meant to teach...when He had finished He said to them, “Know you what I have done to you? I have given you an example, that as I have done to you, so you do also.”...Serving others by acts of charity and humility. This is the example the Master has given us to copy, and He presents some sharp contrast to bring His lessons home—the Master and the servant; the One Who sends and the one sent; the knowledge of charity and humility, and the practice of them. This example and these lesson are for us. How can we wash the feet of others? By doing little acts of kindness... by taking the lowest place; by taking the worst and so ensuring that others get the best...Every time that we put into practice the things that we know, we not only earn from our Master’s lips the title of blessed, but we find ourselves kneeling and washing His Feet, those Sacred Feet that were pierced for us, for He says, “As long as you did it to one of these My least brethren, you did it to Me.” (Matt. 25:40) Passio Christi Meditation for Lent by Mother St. Paul, 1917, from pgs 57 to 60

Spiritual Thought for the Week Humility

The most powerful weapon with which to overcome the devil is humility; because, not knowing how to use it, he does not even know how to defend himself from it.
