

WELCOME NEWCOMERS!

If this is the first time you have attended the Traditional Latin Mass, you may have noticed that our parishioners do not dress casually in the church. Since the changes in the Church, few parishes have any kind of dress code. Here, however, we still believe that modesty and appropriate attire are necessary, especially in Church out of reverence for the Blessed Sacrament. Please observe these minimum standards of dress for attendance at Church services:

- Women and girls must cover their heads. Chapel veils or mantillas are available for loan in the vestibule. They should also wear dresses or skirts that cover the knee completely when standing or sitting; slacks, shorts, sleeveless, tight or low cut clothing are not permitted.
- Men and boys should wear a suit coat and tie
- Jeans and other casual attire are inappropriate for attendance at Church services.
- Also, unless you have been attending the Latin Mass exclusively, you should refrain from receiving Holy Communion until you have had an opportunity to meet with Father.

We are always happy to see new faces at Mary Immaculate Queen Church and we look forward to seeing you again.

Saint Charles Borromeo, Bishop & Confessor

St. Charles, of the noble family of Borromeo, was born on Oct. 2, 1538, in the castle of Arona on the Banks of Lake Maggiore, Italy. His parents perceiving in him from an early age a love for the ecclesiastical state, had him receive the tonsure as soon as his age would permit. He studied at Milan and afterward at the University of Pavia, where he received his doctorate in civil and canon law in 1559. His uncle, the Cardinal de Medici, having in the same year been elected Pope under the title of Pius IV, sent for him and created him Cardinal, and a short time afterwards nominated him Archbishop of Milan, though he was only twenty-two years of age.

He was legate of Bologna, Romagna and the March of Ancona, and Protector of the Kingdom of Portugal, Lower Germany, and the Catholic Cantons of Switzerland. Under his protection were placed the Franciscans, the Carmelites, the Humiliati, and the Canons Regular of the Holy Cross of Christ in Portugal. The appointment may seem strange, but never was there a better one made in the history of the Church. At the same time the Pope detained him at Rome, where he began to labor diligently in the interests of the Church. There he founded the Vatican Academy for literary work. As Papal Secretary of State he was instrumental in reassembling the Council of Trent in 1562. He was active in enforcing its reforms and in composing the Roman Catechism, containing the teachings of the council. After receiving priestly ordination, he also accepted the office of grand penitentiary. For merely honorary or lucrative positions he had no ambition. He assisted at the deathbed of the Pope in 1564, and on the election of Pius V he went to reside at Milan, where he deemed that his presence was required. He immediately began to work at the reformation of his diocese; abuses quickly disappeared, religion began to flourish in spite of the machinations of his enemies, and St. Charles stands forth in bold relief as one of the greatest reformers of ecclesiastical discipline that the Church has ever produced. In 1572 he concurred in the election of Gregory XIII. In the great plague at Milan in 1575, he showed himself the true shepherd by his self-sacrificing charity and heroism. This great light in the firmament of the Church was extinguished in 1584. Lives of the Saints, 435-436
