

WELCOME NEWCOMERS!

If this is the first time you have attended the Traditional Latin Mass, you may have noticed that our parishioners do not dress casually in the church. Since the changes in the Church, few parishes have any kind of dress code. Here, however, we still believe that modesty and appropriate attire are necessary, especially in Church out of reverence for the Blessed Sacrament. Please observe these minimum standards of dress for attendance at Church services:

- Women and girls must cover their heads. Chapel veils or mantillas are available for loan in the vestibule. They should also wear dresses or skirts that cover the knee completely when standing or sitting; slacks, shorts, sleeveless, tight, or low-cut clothing are not permitted.
- Men and boys should wear a suit coat and tie.
- Jeans and other casual attire are inappropriate for attendance at Church services.
- Also, unless you have been attending the Latin Mass exclusively, you should refrain from receiving Holy Communion until you have had an opportunity to meet with Father.

We are always happy to see new faces at Mary Immaculate Queen Church and we look forward to seeing you again.

FAST AND ABSTINENCE

The law of Church abstinence forbids flesh meat. In general, flesh meat is that which comes from warm-blooded animals. On the other hand, the flesh of snails, frogs, or snakes is allowed because they are cold blooded though they live on land. Custom in some places permits the use of what is actually flesh meat – e.g., wild duck in Louisiana. Custom also seems to justify the eating of a warm-blooded animal that lives in the water, such as a whale. Soup made from flesh meat is also forbidden, but the Church Law allows condiments, even those made from the fat of animals. Thus, lard and drippings from fat may be eaten or used for cooking on a day of abstinence.

The law of Church abstinence binds all who have completed their seventh year, provided they have also reached the use of reason. It begins to bind on the day after their seventh birthday. A child below this age, even though he has the use of reason, or one over this age if he has not reached the use of reason is free from the law.

The law of Church fast binds all who have completed their twenty-first year (beginning the day after their twenty-first birthday) up to the beginning of their sixtieth year. (Hence the law ceases the day after their fifty-ninth birthday.)

It is a disputed point whether or not non-Catholics (baptized) are bound by the Church laws of fast and abstinence. The better opinion is the affirmative; but, in actual practice, they cannot be bound because of the probable view to the contrary. Hence, a boardinghouse keeper could give meat to the Protestant boarders on Friday. The better course, however, would be to obtain a dispensation from the bishop or the pastor.

A person who cannot observe the Church laws of fast or abstinence without grave inconvenience is excused from them. From fasting, therefore, are excused laboring men, those in weak health, and women who are pregnant or nursing infants...The question is...whether a Catholic is excused if he is invited to dinner on a day of abstinence and meat is served. Some say that if the host would be gravely offended by a refusal, the guest may eat the meat. But this solution is rarely applicable in the U.S....Non-Catholic hosts should know the laws of the Church on this matter; and if they serve meat on Friday, they should realize that what they have done is offensive to their Catholic guests. Indeed, at times their purpose is to make the situation embarrassing for Catholics, and they consider it a great victory if they get them to eat meat on Friday. It is ordinarily the duty of a good Catholic in such a situation to refuse courteously but firmly, to eat the meat.
